InOvate Launches the FreshVent™: Premium Fresh Air Intake Solution for Modern Homes

January 11, 2024 (Jupiter, FL) – InOvate Technologies, creator of the acclaimed Dryerbox® and DryerWallVent® announces the launch of the FreshVent™, a premium fresh air intake solution designed to meet the ventilation needs of modern, energy-efficient homes. This patented innovation (USPTO Patents 11,953,230 & 12,038,202) combines superior functionality with aesthetic excellence, addressing the growing demand for effective home ventilation solutions.

The FreshVent vent-port cover features deep-drawn 22-gauge Galvalume® steel construction, TGIC powder coating, and high-strength N52 magnets for reliable closure. Its low-profile design and clean lines maintain exterior aesthetics while providing essential fresh air intake for HVAC systems, make-up air requirements, and energy recovery ventilators.

"Modern construction creates increasingly airtight homes, making controlled fresh air introduction crucial for indoor air quality and system performance," says Todd Peach, Vice President of Marketing at InOvate Technologies. "The FreshVent delivers this essential function while maintaining the premium appearance homeowners demand."

Key features include:

- Premium materials and USA manufacturing
- Built-in drip edge for weather protection
- Stainless steel screen for pest prevention
- Easy maintenance access
- Powder coated Galvalume durability
- Code compliant with current IMC

It is also a solid choice for outward-venting kitchen and bath systems with built-in dampers.

The FreshVent matches the quality and aesthetics of all InOvate vents, including the DryerWallVent and Premium WallVent, ensuring consistent exterior appearance across all ventilation terminations.

Now available in 4-inch, and soon 6-inch sizes, with standard colors including white, tan, brown, and black. The product is available through authorized distributors nationwide (anywhere you can get the Dryerbox or DryerWallVent).
